

2023 May Our sow produced 10 piglets this beautiful morning.
We bought 150 little pigs to raise again this year. That is about the normal number.
In addition, we bought a pregnant sow.
We do that most springs, mostly for the fun of it.
In this photo, Janelle is resting after midwifing the births along with Gail.
Gail has done this many times.
This is Janelle's first time helping with the birth of piglets.
The sow is resting.
The baby pigs are warm, dry, and nursing.
There is one half sized, but otherwise healthy piglet.
That is not uncommon.
Farmers call that a "runt".
Can you find it nursing in the photo?
Tom

