

Mustangs Silver and Blue pulling in Fresh Snow.

The first of our two Winter Farm Days was Saturday.

The weather was just about perfect for bobsledding.

Our friend, author Teresa Marrone, took these photos and more which she has posted on her page.

In this photo, mustangs Blue and Silver are pulling us through a pasture near the bison herd.

These boys truly enjoy the work.

We used two teams on Saturday.

The bobsled route was through the woods, across the river and out to the bison pasture.

By alternating teams, I could give rides continuously all afternoon.

The sun was bright and warm.

Even so, the wind was raw in the open.

Most rides we stayed in the pines or close to the woods.

Casey and Jeremiah used the pony, Buckwheat, and later Reno to pull a smaller sled in the woods.
