

Two new lambs.

We buy over 35 lambs each spring to raise for customers. Those lambs are more than two months old when we get them. Still cute, but not nearly as cute as newborn lambs. Gail keeps two ewes to give us super-cute baby lambs. One of Gail's ewes produced two beautiful lambs yesterday. Newborn lambs are full of life, energy, and joy. I took a photo of the lambs playing around an oak tree. Giving birth is easier for some creatures than it is for others.
